

Tapan Goswami

Tapan Goswami started his career working with the Steel Authority of India where he became a Mine Manager. Following some contractor roles with BHP and Rio Tinto, Tapan joined Orica in Australia as a technical writer and advanced to the position of Global Chief Mining Engineer. Over the course of his career, Tapan has published many papers and has invented important new methods for explosives applications that have been adopted by international mining companies.